Weekly Summary

Compared to last week's closing market, the lighter class average prices of both feeder steers and heifers ended $2 to $5 lower while the heavier class average prices ended mostly firm with last week. Slaughter cow and bull demand continue to remain strong with prices steady to $1 higher on cows and $3 higher on slaughter bulls.

Last Friday's positive "on feed report" along with strong buyer interest continue to keep the market figures healthy. As we move out of the weaned grazing calves the market adjust its figures to accommodate the "new crop" calves now being offered.

COMMENTS -

Good market and good cattle on a rainy Wednesday. Stock cows were met with good demand on all fronts from short bred to pairs. Yearling cattle were like a mixed bag of jelly beans, so as quality varied so did price. Steers and heifers under 400 pounds were 5-10 lower than last week while 400-600 pound cattle were steady to 5 dollars cheaper. We hope scattered rains and a correcting LME figures will build optimism for next week. Thanks to everyone!

THANKS TO EVERYONE! WE APPRECIATE YOU!
