Weekly Summary

Compared to last week's closing market, all weight class price averages of both feeder steers and heifers ended firm to $2 higher on some select front-end classes. Slaughter cows today reflected last weeks demand with prices firm. Slaughter bulls however gained about $4 over last week.

Meat moved good to above average this past Memorial Holidays with healthy holiday clearances. Pork apparently failed to gain the consumers protein attention. Good rains the past two weeks out West along with a strong consumer demand keeps fueling the feeder calves higher. Both the feeder and live boards also continue to test new highs.

COMMENTS -

Compared to last week, packer cows 2-4 higher and packer bulls mostly steady. Most classes of steer cattle were steady to 5 dollars cheaper. Heifer cattle were scattered from steady to 10 cheaper because of the quality offered. With an offering of over 1000 calves & yearlings, we had a very mixed assortment of plain and #1 qualities. We were pleased to offer some cross bred cattle that were as good as they get! Thank you to our buyers, sellers and crew for another good sale!
